* title "Spring-time in the Rockies" It was a nice show in technicolor.

I heard from Yosh that you and few other girls ^{and} boys are ~~coming~~ coming over to see him this summer. Is this on the level?

Since the last time I heard from you I have made over half a dozen toy planes I've made this as my hobby from now. I sold few to our boss. He says, he never seen anyone make a better toy plane. He said there were few that were worth ~~of~~ about 3-4 dollars length are only a foot long.

Dear Joan:

Wellaw there, Many thanks for the most-welcome letter I received quite awhile ago and Yosh! was I glad to see a snapshot of yourself enclosed. Thanks a lot, Believe it or not I've got two snapshot of you now. The other one was taken in your victory garden last year.

The weather we're having these days isn't too bad. The snow is practically all gone making things look more like Spring. The Seine River has expanded 15 times its width because this river hasn't much of a bank This water has reached within 15 feet of our house. They say last year it was the worst since 1910 on this river. The wheat fields are a sight - now huge patches of water here and there deep enough to hold a couple on a light dinghy.

Maybe you have heard this. In the middle of March we had a blizzard for 3 consecutive days 60 hrs. behind our house the drift came as high as 9 ft. York says he had a drift 15 ft. high behind this house

How's the good old B.C. like these days more like summer than spring I suppose. During the last week of March ~~but~~ we have done some skating on the rivers and fields. To date we've only had few drops of rain which came just recently.

Last Friday I happened to meet up with York in the bus. For a while there I was puzzled there I couldn't recognize him right away. He had a glass on which I've first seen him with, and besides he has grown a lot fatter.
~~He and~~ He and I went in to see a show. It was of this

5. In the last letter you asked me if I've been to Newton Siding I haven't been there once since we came over I like to tho' its pretty hard to get the permit. Any time we hop on a bus we are questioned we if we got our permit. I'm enclosing a snap-shot which was taken almost a year ago I'm sorry but this is the only one I got of myself My height is I am a little shorter than Yosh.

P.S. I hope you haven't passed out by my picture Always
